SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

FOLKS ABOUT TOWN

MISS HELEN BLACK

"I've been framed", said Miss Helen Black, secretary to most every civic organization in Greencastle, this morning, when I told her that she was to appear today in my "Say" column gallery of prominent Greencastle citizens. And so "frame" her I did. One can hardly say enough nice things about Miss Black. In the first place she is the world's champion dinner ticket seller. Most any time you happen to meet her she will open the conversation with "Now I want you to buy a ticket to the dinner." And generally you buy. Besides secretarial work for the C. of C. and the Greencastle Credit Association she has duties in the First National Bank, where she officiates. Miss Black's hobby, besides selling dinner tickets, is golf. I understand she holds the Country Club record for the largest number of strokes on a single hole, having made an unfinished "run" twenty-seven shots on hole No. 1, before being forced to quit because of exhaustion. Courteous, genial and clever, Miss Black stands high in the vicinity in which she resides.

HERE HE COMES!

The parallel lines indicate the track just after the turn into the "home" stretch. Mr. Wright focused his camera on this section of the track just as Mr. Keach rounded the turn into the stretch, snapping the camera just at the time he believed the speeding car was in front of the lens. His timing was not perfect however, for the picture shows a "clear" track. In explaining the picture Mr. Wright pointing to the extreme right end of the section of track shown, says "here he comes" and then pointing to the other end, says "there he goes."

It rains, it pours, it sprinkles. Rain falls in every form. Sometimes it comes quiet gently. Sometimes it comes in storm. But one thing I have noticed. Which I'll not soon forget. That's every time the clouds let loose. The air is full of wet.

The farmers who have succeeded in getting their corn planted are now looking for cultivators mounted on mud scows.

The Weather—Did you ever see the like?

No, dear reader, the loud explosions you heard this morning was not the DePauw R. O. T. C. firing a salute for Commencement visitors. They simply were the local stone quarries, celebrating the downfall of another ledge of stone.

"You had better hurry up to the clerk's office. They have a bank robber up there," was the information that caused me to make a hurried trip to the court house this morning. Breathlessly I entered the clerk's office only to find Keith Hall, of North Salem and Miss Virginia Stoner, the latter a bookkeeper at the First National bank. They were there to secure a marriage license. About half past I looked up the fellow who had sent me on the "wild goose chase," and demanded: "I thought you told me there was a bank robber at the clerk's office." "Well," said my tormentor, "Mr. Hall has certainly robbed the bank of a good bookkeeper." The explanation was sufficient.

WASHES HANDS IN GAS; LIGHTS MATCH-BLOOEY

LOCAL YOUNG MAN SUFFERS
SEVERE BURNS AT BRAZIL
THURSDAY NIGHT WHEN GAS-OLINE ON HANDS IGNITES—
JAMES RENFRO IS VICTIM

James Renfro, a young man hailing from Greencastle, will be a little more careful in striking a match to light a cigarette in the future. Renfro came to Brazil last evening to attend the carnival and while here something went wrong with his automobile. Renfro proceeded to repair his car and in so doing got his hands smeared with oil. Finishing the job, Renfro poured some gasoline on his hands to remove the grease and in his haste to get a cigarette going, struck a match to light the fat, forgetting that his hands were covered with gasoline. There was a flash and Renfro's hands were a flaming torch and before he could smother the flames on his hands the skin had been burned off in large patches. Renfro was taken to Dr. Elliott's office and his burns dressed and he resolved that in the future he wouldn't be in such a big hurry to smoke a cigarette.—Brazil Times.

AUTOMATIC TELEPHONES AT FIRST NATIONAL

An automatic dial telephone system, consisting of ten department phones by which any department may call the other, has been installed by the Greencastle Telephone Co., in the First National Bank. The new system enables automatic telephone communication between the several departments of the bank and Citizens Trust Co., without the use of a "central". Outside calls handled over the same phones through the bank's private switch board. The new system is most modern and convenient.

AUTO DRIVERS APPLY FOR NEW LICENSES

ALL PERSONS OPERATING CARS
MUST HAVE LICENSE BY JULY
1—FRANKLIN STREET GARAGE
HAS APPLICATION BLANKS

Application for motor vehicles operators licenses, made necessary by an act of the 1929 legislature, are being obtained at the Franklin Street Garage, the only place in Putnam County where the licenses are being sold. Inasmuch as there are approximately 7,500 licenses to be issued in Putnam County it can be seen that those who do not get in their application early will be among those standing in line when the final day approaches.

The application which contains such questions as whether the applicant has ever been adjudged insane or an epileptic, uses narcotics and reads English, involves an expenditure of 50 cents, half the amount being for notary fees.

Automobile drivers have until July 1 to procure the operators license, and after that date anyone found driving without the permit will be subject to prosecution involving a fine that shall not exceed $500 a sentence of six months to the state penitentiary or both.

After the application is made out at the local office it is forwarded to the secretary of state's headquarters where the license is issued. The permit will be in force for three years.

Applications must be made in person. Notice also has been received that those having chauffeur's licenses will not be compelled to procure the new permit.

Permits for minors from 16 to 18 years old must be obtained by special request from the office of the secretary of state. Permits also can be obtained for school pupils from 14 to 16 years old restricted to driving to and from school.

QUARRY BLASTS ROCK BUILDINGS

Heavy quarry blasts rocked buildings in Greencastle today.

Beginning early in the morning and continuing at intervals during the forenoon, the blasts shook residences and business buildings. Several residents complained they were almost shaken out of bed.

The local Sheriff said an early blast awakened him and he arose and investigated in the belief someone had dynamited the Jail.

B. H. Wilkins, a State bee inspector, has been in this county for several days and will be around Greencastle and vicinity next week. He is making plans for a County bee day next week.

The bee day will be an all-day affair and will include a meeting and tour, in which good and poor methods of bee culture will be inspected.

SEES FUTURE SUCCESS FOR AL SMITH

FREDERICK VAN NUYS IN ADDRESS BEFORE INDIANA
DEMOCRATIC EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION MAKES PREDICTION

SESSIONS AT ANGOLA

Religion of Defeated Candidate. Cause of Loss, Says Speaker—Hits Watson and Robinson

ANGOLA, Ind., June 8.—(INS)—A prediction by Frederick Van Nuys, prominent Indianapolis attorney, that future political success is in store for former Governor Alfred E. Smith was the subject of much comment at the joint meeting of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association and the State committee at Lake James near here today.

Van Nuys, the chief speaker at the association's official banquet was considered as tending to place the Hoosier Democratic party on record as declining to join in the revolt of Southern Democratic leaders against Smith and National Chairman Raskob.

"The day will come," Van Nuys said, "when the people of this state and nation will pay greater tribute to Al Smith and the Democratic party in their defeat than to certain officials now in office, who contributed to that defeat and secured their own election through connivance with those who flouted the law and the time-honored covenants of the constitution. I refer, among others, to our present Republican United States senators from Indiana and particularly to the junior Republican senator from this state."

The statement was considered as an official notice that the Indiana Democratic party still maintained its policy of opposition to the Ku Klux Klan.

The religion of Al Smith was the cause of his defeat, according to Van Nuys.

"There is no question in my mind that the controlling factor in our recent defeat was our candidate's religion," he said. "We knew that he was a Catholic when we nominated him, a member of that long-established church with a total enrollment in this country of more than nineteen million members, a follower of that religion which he learned at his mother's knee and to which religion and which mother he was unwaveringly devoted."

"In Governor Smith's nomination, the Democratic party rang true to the constitution."

"Article six of that basic law provides that no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States."

Van Nuys charged that United States Senators James E. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson never raised their voices against the Klan's corruption of Indiana politics. He also scored Governor Harry G. Leslie for "dilatory tactics in his much-heralded house-cleaning in Indiana."

"A palpably weak and unknown cabinet" was selected by President Hoover, according to the speaker.

"As long as American men and women feel secure to worship God only according to the dictates of their consciences, just that long will the Democratic party be applauded and honored for having kept faith with its founder and the constitution in the memorable but unsuccessful campaign of 1928," Van Nuys said.

OREN SNYDER SAWS SECTION OUT OF WINDOW

SHERIFF INTERRUPTS WORK AND FINDS FOUR HACK SAWS TRYING TO TRACE SOURCE OF SAWS

SAYS NEGRO FURNISHED THEM

Given Custody Sentence by Judge James P. Hughes Today—Sent To Farm From South Bend

Oren Snyder, 24, of South Bend, an Indiana State Farm escapee, tried to saw his way to freedom from the Putnam County Jail, it was revealed by Sheriff Edward Eiteljorge today who announced that he found four hack saws in Snyder's cell after he discovered that a section of window bars had been sawed out by the prisoner. Snyder was sentenced to the State reformatory for 1 to 5 years by Judge Hughes today.

Snyder admitted he had sawed the section out of the bars and said that a negro from South Bend had provided the hack saws. The local Sheriff learned that six saws had been purchased from a local hardware store, Friday morning but it is not believed these were used by the prisoner inasmuch as he would not have had time to cut through the bars in the daylight.

Sheriff Eiteljorge discovered the damaged window bars about 8:30 o'clock last night as he walked past the front of the Jail. Glancing at a front window he noticed the screen was pushed out at the bottom. Summoning deputy Sheriff Alva Bryan the two officers entered the Jail to investigate.

While the deputy stood outside, the Sheriff went into a cell where Snyder was confined. As soon as the Sheriff entered the prisoner said: "Well Sheriff, you've got me."

The Sheriff asked him where his tools were and the prisoner pointed to a cot where four hack saws were hidden.

The prisoner had cut a small section out of the jail window bars but the hole was small. The prisoner, however, had stripped to the waist and stuffed his clothing out through the hole. He was then going to squeeze through the small hole. In the event he was unable to get through the small hole he would have tried to saw a larger hole. Whether the saws would have stood the additional sawing is unknown.

Sheriff Eiteljorge believes the prisoner had the saws on his person when he was locked in jail Wednesday night by Gilbert Sulder, State Farm officer. The State Farm Official said that the prisoner had escaped from the penal institution with outside aid.

Several escapes have been made from the Putnam County Jail in the past several months. Only one of the escaped prisoners have been recaptured.

According to the Sheriff the very arrangement of the Jail gives prisoners an advantage. The County refuses to provide a turnkey or night watchman. When an officer enters the Jail he can be heard by prisoners who have time to hide weapons or saws. One prisoner made his escape by surprising the Sheriff when he entered.

Recently a man who was lodged in the County Jail overnight showed the Sheriff a cleverly fashioned "billy" which was hidden under a cot. A prisoner had sawed a leg off a steel cot, filled it with soap, and then wrapped it carefully. He had substituted a wooden leg for the cot. The deadly weapon had been secreted in the beveled-cot steel railing.

Although the local Jail has been condemned by the State Board of Charities no steps have been taken to replace it. Several improvements have been made, however.

Mrs. Jessie McEvoy of Sebring, Fla., and son Paul McEvoy, of Asheville, North Carolina, are here for the commencement exercises at DePauw.

guests, and many homes are entertaining the visitors.

Some alumni who were unable to return for the occasion have telegraphed, sending greetings to the various classes and asking for accounts of the reunion.

In speaking of the various expressions of interest from alumni this year, Dr. Longden spoke of Mr. Hall's gift of one million dollars, the largest gift of money from any alumni. The gift of the Beveridge bust, and the bust of Mrs. Clement Studebaker, and other gifts were mentioned.

He announced also a gift which has just come to the University from Mrs. Larz Whitcomb, Indianapolis. The gift is a cash gift to be used for the establishment of a Larz Chair of Sociology. The Board of Trustees held their annual meeting at ten o'clock this morning, and reconvened this afternoon, remaining in session until late. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 9.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days. Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other" (Matt. 12:10-13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To admit that sickness is a condition over which God has no control, is to presuppose that omnipotent power is powerless on some occasions" (p. 182). "Our Master treated error through Mind. He never enjoined obedience to the laws of nature, if by these are meant laws of matter, nor did he use drugs. There is a law of God applicable to healing, and it is a spiritual law instead of material" (p. 468).

CHILD DROWNS IN HARBOR;
PLAYMATE FEARS TO TELL

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 8.—(INS)—The body of Robert Shaver, 8, was recovered from the water of the lake harbor here early today following a search that started dramatically last night.

Young Shaver fell into the harbor while playing with Paul Retseck, 6. Paul was too frightened to tell his parents. He could not sleep however. About midnight when inquiry was directed to the Retseck home in the search for Robert, the Retseck boy perched on his mother's lap and sobbingly told police he had heard a splash and had seen Robert in the water.

More than 100 persons, members of the American Legion, of the police department, of the coast guard and other volunteers took part in the search which resulted in the combining of the entire city before the Retseck family put the police on the right track.

North, the general contractor, has said the building was the best planned and arranged of any of the millions of dollars worth of apartment houses he has built.

A feature of the 20-apartment building of English Manor type architecture is the court-side entrance to all apartments which eliminates the central corridor feature so objectionable to apartment house dwellers. Four entrances from the court gives each apartment dweller access to his apartment without disturbing other apartment occupants. Stairways lead from each entrance to the upper apartments.

The two-story building contains four 4-room apartments; eight 2-room apartments and eight 1-room apartments.

The entire building is finished with hardwood floors. The halls and kitchenettes are laid with linoleum in attractive designs. Walls of the living rooms are of pulled sponge trowel struck texture and the bedroom walls are of fine texture sand finish. The bath room walls are of wainscot travertine marble and the floors of tile, with a white field and black border and base. The woodwork in the bath room is of black enamel. The bath rooms have an unusual color scheme which has been admired by many visitors.

The 4-room apartments have two large bedrooms with connecting bath, a spacious dining room and kitchen, large living room and comfortable size porches facing Washington street.

The 2-room apartments have large living room, comfortable size bedroom, large roll-away bed closet, and a bath room so arranged that it can be entered from either the bedroom or living room through the roll-away bed closet. These also have the kitchenette and dinette. Double French doors lead to an ornamental rail balcony.

The 1-room apartments consist of a large living room, roll-away bed closet, bath room and kitchenette and dinette.

The basement consists of a spacious laundry room on either side to serve the twenty apartments. Two double laundry trays are provided. There is also compartments for storage for each apartment. The basement also houses the central oil heating plant.

Another feature of the basement is the janitor's quarters. Gilbert Cole, the builder spared no expense in making it as comfortable as the remainder of the building. The quarters contain the same interior as the other apartments and consists of a bedroom, kitchen, living and dining room and a bath. It is situated on the east side of the basement.

In the rear of the apartment house a two-story garage of 16-car capacity is under construction. Eight cars will enter the basement level of the garage from the apartment side and eight cars will enter on the street level from Franklin street. The garage is of brick and fireproof construction along the same lines of architecture as the remainder of the building.

Electric refrigeration for each apartment, mail boxes in the hall entrances, an incinerator accessible from the entrance halls are other features of the building.

Although several families are already residing in the building outside work is not yet complete. This includes the sunken garden in the space left by the U-shaped structure. In the center of the garden will be a fountain and steps will lead from the walk circling the garden, down to the garden itself.

At least fifteen contractors, including the general contractor, are in constructing the building. These include the heating and plumbing, the electrical work, fixtures, hardware, stuccoing, interior decorating, roofing, wrought iron rails and ornamental iron work, cabinets and carpentering and linoleum, refrigeration, screens, and the steel sash work.

Chester Conklin and Flora Finch

Featured in "The Haunted House"

Those who like their mystery seasoned with laughter and who prefer a cold chill topped with a grin, will do well to visit the Granada theatre Sunday where "The Haunted House" will create mirth and mystery galore.

Chester Conklin and Flora Finch and others of the fine cast provide plenty of comedy in this First National picture which Benjamin Christensen directed. This comedy team is always to be relied upon and their experiences in a house that is reputed to be decidedly an unhealthy spot for people with weak nerves, are exasperating.

They go there seeking a hidden packet of bonds; they run up against mad men, somnambulists, a horrible old caretaker and a hundred and one things of an untoward nature.

Thelma Todd, Eve Southern and Barbara Bedford are three beautiful girls who provide the love element as well as much of the mystery.

Montagu Love and William V. Mong are two of the strange and menacing figures while Larry Kent is the handsome young hero of the piece. There are a number of other talented actors and withal the cast is far above the ordinary.

Much may be said for the sets; the interiors of the old house are perfect in their atmospheric character. The original stage play, by Owen Davis, possessed fewer thrills than the film version.

There is no questioning the popularity of mystery pictures and "The Haunted House" is one of the finest.

VONCASTLE

"A Man's Man" Affords

A Hollywood play without a single studio scene in it.

This is the unique distinction of "A Man's Man," William Haines' new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, coming Sunday to the Voncastles Theatre. Directed by James Cruze from the Patrick Kearney stage hit and laid entirely in Hollywood, it gives intimate glimpses of the film colony, its stars, its social events, all without any stereotyped studio scenes.

The affair is a hilarious comedy, a satire on all Hollywood life, with a love romance running through it. Josephine Dunn plays the girl, a movie-struck bride, who thinks she resembles Greta Garbo and Sam Hardy of "Diamond Handcuffs" fame, villain, a discharged assistant-director, and Mae Busch, and appealing character part, that of a hard-boiled extra who takes the movie-struck little bride under her protection.

One of the spectacular scenes shows the brilliant premiere of "White Shadows" at Grauman's famous Chinese theatre.

The Home Economics Club met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Mabel Talbot, with Mesdames Mary Blue and Stella Carrington assisting hostesses.

Miss Esther Whitaker spent Thursday night and Friday in Indianapolis.

Several from here attended the commencement exercises at Greencastle high school. Nine former pupils of Putnamville high school received diplomas.

MURDER MYSTERY FOUND
CHICAGO, June 7.—(INS)—A murder mystery as ghastly as the fiction of Edgar Allen Poe developed for police here today with the finding of the body of a well dressed man in the basement of an abandoned downtown building.

The man had been dead about a month. His head remained hanging from a beam by a short length of rope but the remainder of the body lay in a grotesque heap upon the floor.

The hands and feet had been tied with lengths of clothesline, eliminating any possibility of suicide.

An effort was to be made to trace the clothing, of excellent texture, in an effort to identify the body.

CHANGE MADE IN HANDLING R. R. MAIL

NEW LAW MAKES IT UNLAWFUL FOR MAIL CARRIER TO ZIG ZAG ACROSS ROAD TO DELIVER MAIL BOXES MUST BE ON RIGHT SIDE OF ROAD

The attention of all rural route patrons is called to the latest ruling of the postoffice department.

Beginning June 15 and thereafter rural route carriers will deliver mail only on the right side of the road in the direction they are travelling. This means that if your mail box is located on the opposite it must be shifted to the other side of the road in order to obtain delivery.

The ruling is in compliance with a recent order covering reckless driving. The reckless driving in this case refers to the present zig-zag manner in which rural route carriers move from one side of the road to the other.

All changes must be made by June fifteenth. If the changes are not made mail will be held at the postoffice for those failing to comply with the ruling.

STANLEY CANFIELD STARTS LIFE TERM

KOKOMO, Ind., June 7.—Stanley Canfield, 26 years old, of Kokomo, confessed bandit who robbed three banks within three weeks, two of the robberies being at the Hobbs bank in Tipton county, tonight began a life sentence in Michigan City state prison after being sentenced by Judge Cleon Mount in Tipton this morning.

When sentence was pronounced Canfield asked the court for permission to say a few words.

"I have been in this court room lots of times and every time I come here I seem to see the same faces," Canfield said. "I don't know why you come, but I hope you'll learn a lesson from my experience. I thought I was all right but I was all wrong. My mother was a good judge. If I had followed her advice I would not be here now. I am before a judge of another kind now. It won't be long until I am in the penitentiary where I belong for the rest of my life will be breaking rocks with a sledge hammer. I hope you boys take warning and do not follow my example."

Prior to being sentenced Canfield talked freely to Prosecutor Glen R. Hillis of Howard county and gave him a mass of data regarding liquor and narcotic traffic in the Kokomo underworld.

SEEK TO SAVE BLOOMINGTON MAN FROM PENAL FARM

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., June 7.—(INS)—Edwin Corr, local attorney, is circulating a petition asking Governor Harry G. Leslie to save James Buchanan Branam, better known as "Buck" Branam, 73 years old, from serving a penal farm sentence of 90 days and paying a fine of $250 on a liquor conviction which was placed against him in 1926.

The aged man who lives north of here is now bedridden from rheumatism and if he is sent to the state farm he will have to be placed in the state farm hospital according to Corr.

The petition already has been signed by the trial judge, prosecutor, jurors and local newspapermen.

Branam was arrested in 1926 because two jugs of whiskey were found in a field on his farm. His son also was arrested. The father was found guilty by the jury and the son acquitted.

According to the old man's friends he was not mixed up in the booze escapade at all but only attempted to hide it to keep others from getting into trouble.
